

he was twenty-four," his son Dhani said. "He was on tour or someplace when he wrote it. And it basically says, 'I want to be self-realized. I want to find God. I'm not interested in material things, this world, fame — I'm going for the real goal. And I hope you don't worry about me, mum.' And he wrote that when he was twenty-four! And that was basically the philosophy that he had up until the day he died. He was just going for it right from an early age — the big goal."
